Berg's Seals will bring a real novelty act to the Fair's circus program, and Tiny Cline, one of the famous "iron jaws" of the circus world, will thrill fair crowds with her Slide For Life. At right is the Boginos troupe, who are third generation "circus people", brought to America from Italy to appear for three seasons with the Ringling Brothers circus.

These brothers and sisters are without equal in their acrobatic risley act. And The Eris act, below, features a tremendous display of one hand, and one finger, balancing skill on top of an eight-foot fountain. In addition, the Porterville High School band will provide music for the circus show, and Porterville's talented Canterbells will present their mounted drill. On opening night, Arabian horses will be shown in action, with riders in full Arabian costume and on the second night of the fair, Quarter Horses will take the spotlight. If things go right, fair debt will be

PORTERVILLE HIGH school's "superior" band, directed by Frank Shaffer, will be featured in the Porterville Fair's Grandstand Circus the evenings of May 16, 17, and 18. The band will also appear in its annual concert tomorrow night, Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Porterville Memorial auditorium, with John Brimhall, Porterville college music instructor, playing the Grieg piano concerto with band accompaniment. Two compositions will be given their world premiers at the Friday concert, a rhapsody for woodwinds by Jerry Kuhlman, Porterville elementary band instructor, and "Spring Has Come", a tonal color study by band arranger, Dick Jones.

THREE DAY FAIR TO OPEN MAY 16

Circus Acts To Feature Night Show

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Porterville's 10th annual fair will open next Thursday for a run of three days and nights, May 16, 17, and 18, featuring a grandstand circus each night, exhibits of the finest 4-H and Future Farmer fat stock on the Pacific coast, farm and home commercial exhibits, pet parade, a colorful flower show, kiddie rides, a fat stock sale, a junior horse show and a new feature — Arabian and Quarter horse shows.

Headlining the night circus will be the Sky Devils, three men and a girl who will perform on the high trapeze 125 feet in the air; featured will be the Boginos troupe, three men and two girls — brothers and sisters — who were brought from Italy to appear with the Ringling Brothers circus.

Exhibitors Can Move In This Weekend

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Commercial exhibitors at the 1957 Porterville Fair can start moving in this weekend, according to Fair Secretary Rolla Bishop, who states that a night watchman will be on the grounds starting Sunday, May 12.

All farm and home exhibits in the fair's commercial division must be in place by official opening of the fair, 9 a.m., Thursday, May 16.

Livestock being shown must be on the grounds Wednesday night, with judging to start Thursday morning, May 16, at 9 a.m. Entry deadline for livestock is Saturday, May 11, with entry blanks available from Bishop.

Competitive displays for the Fair's flower show will be received from 8 a.m. until 10:30 a.m., May 16, with judging of the flower show to start at 11 a.m.

paid off this year and as a feature of the final night's performance, the fair's mortgage will be burned. Directors of the fair believe that the nightly grandstand circus will offer the biggest dollar's worth of entertainment available in America — anywhere.

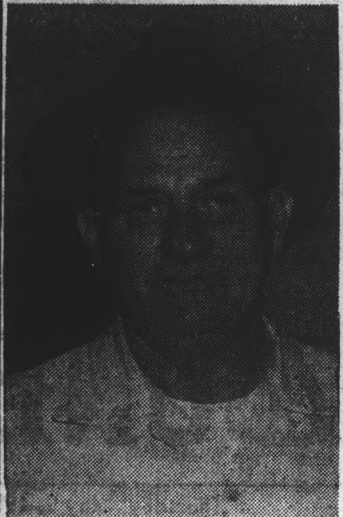

THE WINNER of Tuesday's Silver Bonus was Mrs. Eddie Watts, of 2185 Morton street, who received $5.00, presented by Don Daley, manager of Spalding Lumber Company of Porterville, a Silver Bonus store. Mrs. Watts did not have a sales slip from a Silver bonus store, so next week the bonus is $45. Read the Silver Bonus pages in this issue of The Farm Tribune for details.

LET'S NOT PROCRASTINATE

On Friday, May 17, we people of this community must face a fact — we must face the fact that physical facilities at our high school are not adequate; that we need, first of all, classrooms.

On Friday, May 17, we will vote on whether or not we are to tax ourselves 50 cents for a period of five years so that our school board members can provide the needed classrooms, and other facilities, for our children — or perhaps our grandchildren.

We have procrastinated far too long on our high school problem, and in case you aren't quite clear as to what procrastination is, Mr. Webster says this: To put off till tomorrow, or from day to day; to defer, postpone, delay.

And procrastinating is exactly what we will be doing if we do not vote the proposed 50 cent school tax, for the problem is there, and it must be taken care of.

Procrastination has never solved any problem; this time we people better face the issue realistically and take care of our high school.

ELEMENTARY AGE CHILDREN ENTER PETS IN PARADE THAT WILL BE AN OPENING FEATURE OF THE 1957 PORTERVILLE FAIR

PORTERVILLE, May 9—Eleven categories have been set up for the annual pet parade that will be an opening-day feature of the Porterville fair, May 16, with Chairman William Joos stating that all pets must be entered and ready for judging in the fair's grandstand area at 6:30 p.m.

Classes are: Best of breed, cats; best of breed, dogs; smallest pet; pet with longest tail; pet with shortest tail; pet with most spots; best trained pet; pet with longest ears; pet with shortest ears; most useful pet and most unusual pet.

First, second and third place ribbons will be given in each of the 11 classes; entry blanks have been distributed through elementary schools and must be in possession of entrant when pet is brought to the grounds. No entries will be accepted after 6:30 p.m., May 16.

Competition in the pet parade is open only to elementary school children; a pet can be entered in only one category; owners must be responsible for action of their pets; all entries must be bonafide pets and decision of judges will be final.

There is no charge to enter pets; fair management reserves the right to bar any unruly pet from the grounds.

Elementary age children from throughout the Porterville high school and Strathmore high school districts are invited to enter their pets in the pet parade.

NEGOTIATION ON DISTRICT LOAN DEAL

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Ernie Northup, manager of the Porterville Irrigation district, will go to Sacramento today to enter into final review of a district application for interest-free federal money to construct a water distribution system within the district.

He will confer with Rex Reed, in the loan office of the U.S. bureau of reclamation, who is in charge of handling operations under provisions of public law 130.

Proposed expansion within the Porterville district involves a project estimated at $2,450,000.

WE THE PEOPLE

Statements made in this column do not necessarily reflect the editorial opinion of the Farm Tribune.

In answer to some recent words of advice to the Barn Theater, the driving force behind the Barn's operation is, always has been, and will be as long as the Barn exists, a small interested group. With the Barn's tremendous overhead, the prime factor behind the choice of every play is the box office. The Barn has adhered to this to the best of this small group's ability. Five of the six plays the Barn has done this season have been extremely successful both on the stage and in the movies in every corner of the nation, except the Barn.

According to Messrs. Roget and Webster, a person interested in his and her community's culture development is interested in improving, by care, labor, or study, his moral or intellectual faculties. One who has appreciation for and is discriminating, in good taste, unaffected, courteous, civilized, and tactful. The opposites are: ignorance, vulgarity, deterioration, discourtesy.

Participation in and attendance at the Barn cannot create culture, (it can only foster it.) But an interest (of any degree) in the Barn is usually indicative of an interest in the aforementioned values. A universal factor in every teen-age or juvenile delinquent problem is a tendency to abuse or belittle these values. I personally cannot tolerate this same juvenile attitude in adults and particularly in journalism.

The Barn is not and will not demand community support or financial subsidy. However, facing facts, it's up to the community. If there are not enough people in the community with enough interest in the Barn to allow it to pay its bills, while a small group volunteers the work, then the community does not need the Barn.

Up N' Down WEST OLIVE

You don't want to buy land "on the Road to Mandalay" but IN Mandalay. For business, buy where business can be done; buy real estate for investment, profit, and future independence — Arthur Brisbane, 1923. West Olive is fast becoming the Mandalay of southern Tulare county.

Did you know: Olive school was first organized February 5, 1915; that Cottage Avenue was named by E. L. Little of, Strathmore, who built some small cottages along that dusty road — that Wisconsin and Tomah streets were named after a land developer from Tomah, Wisconsin?

Progress Dept.: Workmen are really going to town on that new Purity Market project — The Chuck Wagon is just about ready for Grand Opening — the walls are rising on our new hospital — plans for a park west of the Green Mill — new house abuilding next to Supervisor Rodger Moore's domicile — the TV Center now in spacious new quarters — that dependable steak house, Prandinis, is now under the personal direction of "Gib" Fernandez.

I saw: about a carload of cooler pads being unloaded at Blodget's Farmers Exchange — must be that time of year — I think — while across the street at Jones' ice cold locker plant they were unloading sacks of charcoal from Griswold's charcoal farm at Springville — to barbecue your steaks with.

Cow Goods: Besides testing dairy stock, Terry Boyd at Stock Farmacy is an expert leather puncher; designs saddles, belts, etc.

Juke Box Row: According to Sam Leaver of the Valley Music Co., who operates the coin operated phonographs and amusement games in these parts, that new number, "A White Sport Coat and A Pink Carnation", is fast becoming a hit, and ballad, "Till", strictly for the married generation.

Johnny and Ray Waters, operators of The Pathfinder filleruppers now have 10 pumps in operation and a used car lot fast filling up.

District Officers Are Visitors At Emblem Club Meeting

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Visitors at last meeting of the Porterville Emblem club included Pauline Bryan, of Delano, supreme district deputy; Claudine Crichlow, of Porterville, supreme press correspondent, and Ruth Sylva, president, and Vivian Campbell, financial secretary, of the Bakersfield Emblem club.

Business of the meeting included presentation of Porterville Round-up queen and attendants by Molly Della and last year's queen, Linda Jones; a report by Mrs. Crichlow that Easter baskets and books had been taken to the Springville hospital; a report by Loretta Boydston on an Easter party at the Porterville State hospital, and plans to assist with the Elks lodge Mother's day program the evening of May 13.

On the evening's committee were: Ruth Sturgeon, chairman; Elnora Callison, co-chairman; Lottie Baugher, Lorraine Buda, Jeanie Demettriff, Janice Hutchinson, Frances Jones, Harriette Lhomme, Emma Santry, Wanda Slayton, Helen Spuhler, Ferne Frasher, Alice Vossler, Martha Vossler, Nell Vossler, Josephine Wyllie, Alberta Unser and Corinne Gosage.

chief, Mr. Morris Fuller and Mrs. Fuller of Pasadena and Washington, D. C., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson.

Thirty members and leaders of the Springville 4-H club met at the school Saturday for their annual project tour. All the members they visited plan to exhibit their projects at the Fair this month.

The first stop was at Andrew Moore's where they saw his rabbit project; then to Brent Gill's to see his beef project. From there to Rodney Avery's place to see his lambs. The last stop was at Leonard and Barbara Frayo's home in Success Valley to view their beef projects.

The group then ate a sack lunch and later Barbara Frayo served cake and punch to the group.

The members ended the tour with a baseball game.

Later a potluck dinner was held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Skiles for her 4-H food class. The girls prepared hot dogs at the meeting. Damaris Stillian decorated the table. Other members present were Claudia and Sandra Fleming, Gloria Hodge and Karen Skiles, junior leader.

The May meeting will be held in the home of Damaris Stillian.

WANT A BADGER? FRANK PRATT OPEN TO OFFERS

COTTON CENTER, May 9 — Want a badger?

If you do, Frank Pratt is the man to negotiate with; he'll sell you a badger at the going market price — or, it is just possible he might give you a badger if you'll carry it away with you.

The badger in question was caught in a steel trap on the Pratt ranch just west of Vincent corner, and now resides in a cage at the ranch. He's a mean-tempered individual, growling and rushing at persons who get close to his cage, but perhaps that's just his way of showing friendship. (We don't want to kill a sale for Frank.)

And there's a little history surrounding this badger. Seems that it was about 50 years ago that Frank shot a badger on his way home from the Woodville grammar school — in the same field in which the current badger was trapped.

In the 50 years between shooting and trapping, Frank says he has never seen a badger on the ranch.

What's a badger good for? Well, they kill gophers, but in going after said gophers they leave behind a hole of considerable size — in fact so big that you would probably prefer the gophers to the badger holes.

In the old days, it was rare sport to throw a badger and a dog into a ring and watch them fight, but there are those individuals who would take a dim view of such action now-a-days.

Frank's badger has a nice-looking pelt — if you like badger pelts, but at this season it is a little short of prime.

Of course you might make a pet out of a badger, provided you don't mind losing a finger, or hand

Porterville Fair Has Come A Long Way Since First Effort On School Grounds Back In 1948

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — The Porterville Fair, the 10th annual fair May 16, 17 and 18, has come a long way since the first effort back in 1948, when original directors, with help of the Merchants' committee of Porterville chamber of commerce, tied in with Patron's day at Porterville high school to produce a one-day show.

Actually fair exhibits were set up for two days, however, the first day was turned over entirely to the school's Patron day program; on the following day, Saturday, Future Farmer and 4-H livestock was judged in the morning; a fat stock sale was held in the afternoon; a livestock parade, pet parade and junior horse show featured evening entertainment on the old high school football field, and the evening closed with a "jitney" dance that did not pay off.

Frames covered with canvas served for livestock barns; commercial exhibits were placed in the girls' gymnasium at the high school (consternation reigned when some of the commercial exhibitors drove nails in the gym floor) and high school students were unhappy about the fair "muscling in" on their Patrons day.

But the show went on and there was a profit when it was over, which encouraged directors to go ahead with a second fair, also at the high school, in 1949.

Big jump (and big mistake) came a year later when the fair was moved to the Rocky Hill arena and the Pan American Amusement company came in with tents, and carnival games that were operated by Porterville organizations.

Major entertainment feature that year was a "Pageant of Porterville", written by Bill Rodgers; staged by Pete Tewksbury and his Barn Theater staff, and narrated by the late Douglas Beattie.

There were crowds on the ground that year, but with a cast of several hundred in the pageant, and with several hundred more local citizens working in exhibits and the carnival concessions, everyone must have had passes, for the fair ended up with a loss of some $6,000.

The firm of R. Hodgson and Sons, with an assist from The Farm Tribune, carried the debt for a year, after directors, in some gloomy sessions finally decided that rather than "sell out" they would make one more try, this time at the municipal ball park in Porterville.

The "move to town" proved to be a good move, for the fair operated in the black, but after the expense of putting up barn frame-works, and other equipment, in the ball park, then taking it out immediately after the fair, there wasn't much money left to pay off the fair debt.

At this point in fair history, Mrs. Scott Carpenter came to the rescue, loaning the fair the necessary money, without interest, to pay up outstanding bills, and keep the fair in business.

Pattern of entertainment was changed in the year that the fair came to the ball park — professional talent being booked to replace the "home talent" grandstand shows of past years.

And since this type of show drew crowds, it's been a professional outdoor show since.

After two years of temporary location at the ball park, each year involving the building and tearing down of all fair facilities, directors decided to take the first step toward a permanent location.

Arrangement was worked out with the city of Porterville whereby the fair obtained use of city property adjacent to and east of the ball park, extending out to Grevilla avenue.

First major project was construction of the present display building, which was put up with an estimated 5,000 hours of donated labor. Practically everyone in the community had a hand in this construction, making the Porterville fair a truly community event.

In subsequent years, electrical wiring was improved (the first year in the new display building, Fire Chief Ross Gardner stood by with a fire truck 24 hours a day in case the overloaded electrical circuit blew out completely, and Bob Mishler staged a one-man track meet for the three days and nights cooling off hot wires.)

At present, fair facilities are valued at about $50,000, including several thousand dollars worth of wiring that no one sees. For the past six years, the fair has shown a profit sufficient to pay for improvements and to pay off most of the note held by Mrs. Carpenter, a note signed by the nine original directors of the fair.

A couple of years ago, John Daybell landscaped the grounds, and in a few more years the summer sun will be broken by shade trees throughout the present livestock area.

The Porterville fair is now the largest event of its kind in California that is operated entirely as a community event without aid of state funds. And this year, directors plan to make the final payment on the fair note, and "burn the mortgage."

After starting as a committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce, fair directors set up their own organization as a non-profit corporation, legal work in this matter was handled without charge by Guy Knapp Jr.

Under provisions of the corporation, all money derived from the fair must be used for production of the fair, and for construction of fair facilities.

Through the years, many persons in the community have contributed time and money to the fair; when Porterville area people speak of the Porterville fair as "our fair" they mean just that.

The future? Directors of the fair are talking plans to move the livestock barns further toward the east, leaving the present livestock area as a shaded, grassed section for outdoor displays, food concessions, and tables and chairs.

There is still plenty of places for paint on fair facilities — some painting will be done prior to opening of the fair next week — and repairs will be necessary on the display building. Under construction now is a new office building that will be ready for use this year.

FISHIN'

By Slim Washburn

Fishing is very good on all forks of the Tule river except the North Fork, (Jack Flats) which is only fair. Planting of catchable trout continues from Springville up to Coffee Camp, and in the Camp Nelson and Camp Wishon areas.

Best baits for the catchables have been salmon eggs, cheese baits and small spinners.

Very good fly fishing in the unplanted areas of the Tule river, especially in the late afternoon and evening. Wet flies best until almost dark, when dry flies work well.

Roads are all open to the higher country. No plantings as yet at the higher elevations.

Two nice Browns caught the first week of the season: One 19-inch taken by Robert Casey, of 620 Wilson St., Oildale, and one 22½ inch caught by Wes Robinson, Route 4, Porterville.

Water is very low for this time of year.

Supply of early tomatoes is increasing from Imperial and Coachella valleys.

Five Thousand Persons Expected At Rockwell Company Free Barbecue June 8 In Conjunction With Fly-In

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — An estimated 5,000 residents of Porterville and Tulare county — and private plane owners from all corners of the nation — will get their first real look at the inside of Rockwell Manufacturing Company's new ultramodern 106,000-square-foot factory here Saturday, June 8.

The Porterville Civic Development foundation and Rockwell will jointly sponsor a barbecue and "open house" program in the newly completed plant from 12 noon to 2:30 p.m., it has been announced.

Although the plant will not be equipped for production by that time, the June 8 date was selected to coincide with the date of the already announced annual "Moonlight Flight" sponsored by the Porterville Area Pilots association for private plane owners and pilots from throughout the U. S. Last year, this increasingly famous event attracted 702 planes and set an official CAA world record for number of flight operations at any field over a 23-hour period.

Rockwell, Foundation and PAPA officials are co-ordinating arrangements for the daylong festivities.

Several state and local officials and civic leaders will speak briefly at the barbecue, and a number of top Rockwell executives from the company's national headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa., will be introduced.

Several state and local officials and civic leaders will speak briefly at the barbecue, and a number of top Rockwell executives from the company's national headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa., will be introduced.

Ann B. Davis — better known as "Schultzie" on the Bob Cummings TV show — will appear at the barbecue in addition to headlining the entertainment program at the PAPA-sponsored weiner roast and dance at the airport that evening. The 16-piece Porterville Junior College and High School Studio band will play at the barbecue as well as the evening event. The new one-story concrete structure, which is expected to begin limited operations by late summer, will be used for assembly and repair of Rockwell meter and valve products and warehousing of these products and Rockwell Delta power tools for West Coast distribu-

CHANGE ASKED IN COUNTY DEER SEASON

SACRAMENTO, May 9 — Deer seasons for 1957 now being considered by the California department of fish and game, are: Coastal season, August 3 - September 15; Inyo-Mono area season, September 14 - October 20; Inland season, September 21 - October 27.

Boundary change from last season has been requested by the Tulare county board of supervisors, who have asked that only that part of Tulare county lying within the Inyo National Forest be included in the Inyo-Mono season that opens September 14.

Last year, a considerable area in the southeastern part of the county was opened by the state a week ahead of the general inland season, however, county supervisors closed the area for one week so the seasons would coincide.

MADRIGAL SINGERS APPEAR AT MEETING

TAGUS RANCH, May 9 — The Madrigal Singers, of Porterville High school presented a program, Friday, at a meeting of central section music supervisors at Tagus ranch. In the group, which is directed by Arthur Huff, are: Sandra Hoffman, Pat Coleman, Stella Wellfare, Sandra West, Phyllis Fisher, Judith Armstrong, Emmett Edsell, Dave Rymer, Neil Eddy, Ray Chandler and Jerry Derfelt.

tion. It is completely air-conditioned and protected by sprinkler system.

Designed to blend with the modern, predominantly ranch-type architecture and the mountain scenery of the picturesque San Joaquin valley, the factory incorporates many features new to Rockwell plant architecture.

These include, for example, a cozy patio for employee recreation and relaxation, a special concrete parking lot conveniently located at the front of the building and a chilled-water cooling system specially designed for the San Joaquin climate.

Other points of interest for visitors will be the modern truck and freight car loading facilities, the spacious tile-floored lavatories, the large Rockwell industrial gas meter at the driveway entrance and the extensive use of Rockwell-Nordstrom lubricated plug valves throughout the plant.

The meter cleaning room will be a landmark in itself, with its high tile wainscoting and special overhead ventilation equipment to remove all dust and fumes. It is to this room that Rockwell meters from all over the West Coast will come first for cleaning before they are repaired.

Many persons attending the barbecue will also take part in the full program planned by the PAPA. In addition to the weiner roast and dance, there will be a moonlight flight over Porterville Saturday night and an exhibition of military planes and flying along with experimental aircraft and home-built models.

Sunday, there will be an amateur contest at the airport at 9 a.m., with prizes awarded for the best performances. Prizes will also be presented to the oldest pilot, youngest lady pilot, youngest male pilot, pilot coming the longest distance, and many more.

Annexation: If certain bills now in the "hopper" at Sacramento are made into law, captive suburbs like D. C. will find it almost impossible to annex to an incorporated city.

Planning stage: a bridge across Porter slough to connect E. Olive with Grevilla — north Grevilla to be resurfaced — a National Guard Armory near the Barn Theater.

Noted: Bill Dye building a three bedroom home on Sycamore, with two more in the planning stage — an expanded grocery and gas station at corner of N. Leggett and Sycamore — tanks being sunk for new super Mobile station at Park and Date.

Saw: Butcher boy, Jack Bryson shopping for antiques in Riley's Variety store — Noel Cowan, the furniture man, supervising painting of new East Date Furniture sign — Bill Banford, Redwood Novelty, busy filling orders for those little redwood wheelbarrows — nice pieces of property for lease next to old Alta Vista school, would make a good drive-in eating spot location.

WANTED — ONE RECORDING OF SEPTEMBER SONG

PORTERVILLE, May 2 — A recording of "September Song", a popular record of the mid-1930s, is needed by the Porterville Barn theater for use in "The Seven Year Itch" that opens May 17 as the next Barn stage production.

Director Dave Weaver says that anyone producing this record will receive two opening-night passes for the show.

The record is needed to point up a scene in which Bill White, as a man worrying about his approach to his fortieth birthday while left alone by his vacationing wife, tries nervously to prove he is still a youth by entertaining a pretty young girl with whom he has scraped up an acquaintance.

UNLESS WATER people in the state of California decide to let the state handle its own water affairs and keep the bureau of reclamation out, there is little point in arguing about counties of origin and other aspects of water rights, for the bureau will take control of everything . . . We can't understand how farmers who took the abuse dished out by the bureau through the 1930s and 1940s can now lean toward the bureau, as many of them do, particularly since it is apparent that the undesirable social philosophies that have existed in the bureau seem to continue to exist regardless of the administration in power . . . We have always believed in the basic soundness of two ideas of government: The best government is the government closest to home; and the higher levels of government should enter affairs of lower levels only when the lower level cannot handle the situation, and then, only to assist, not to control . . . Bureau of reclamation policy has traditionally been to dominate and dictate here in the San Joaquin valley; we better take our chances in the future with our own state administration.

Alan now observing his 25th year as a "ham", although he has some six years to go before "life begins at 40" for him. He became the youngest "ham" in the nation when he was only nine years old, and now his wife, Norma, has become a licensed operator. Alan's father, Al Margo, started the family trend a number of years ago, and now both Al and Alan are members of the radio "hams" old timers club . . . Right now there's some little Margots coming along. Guess what their hobby will be.

From

Daybell
Nursery

By John

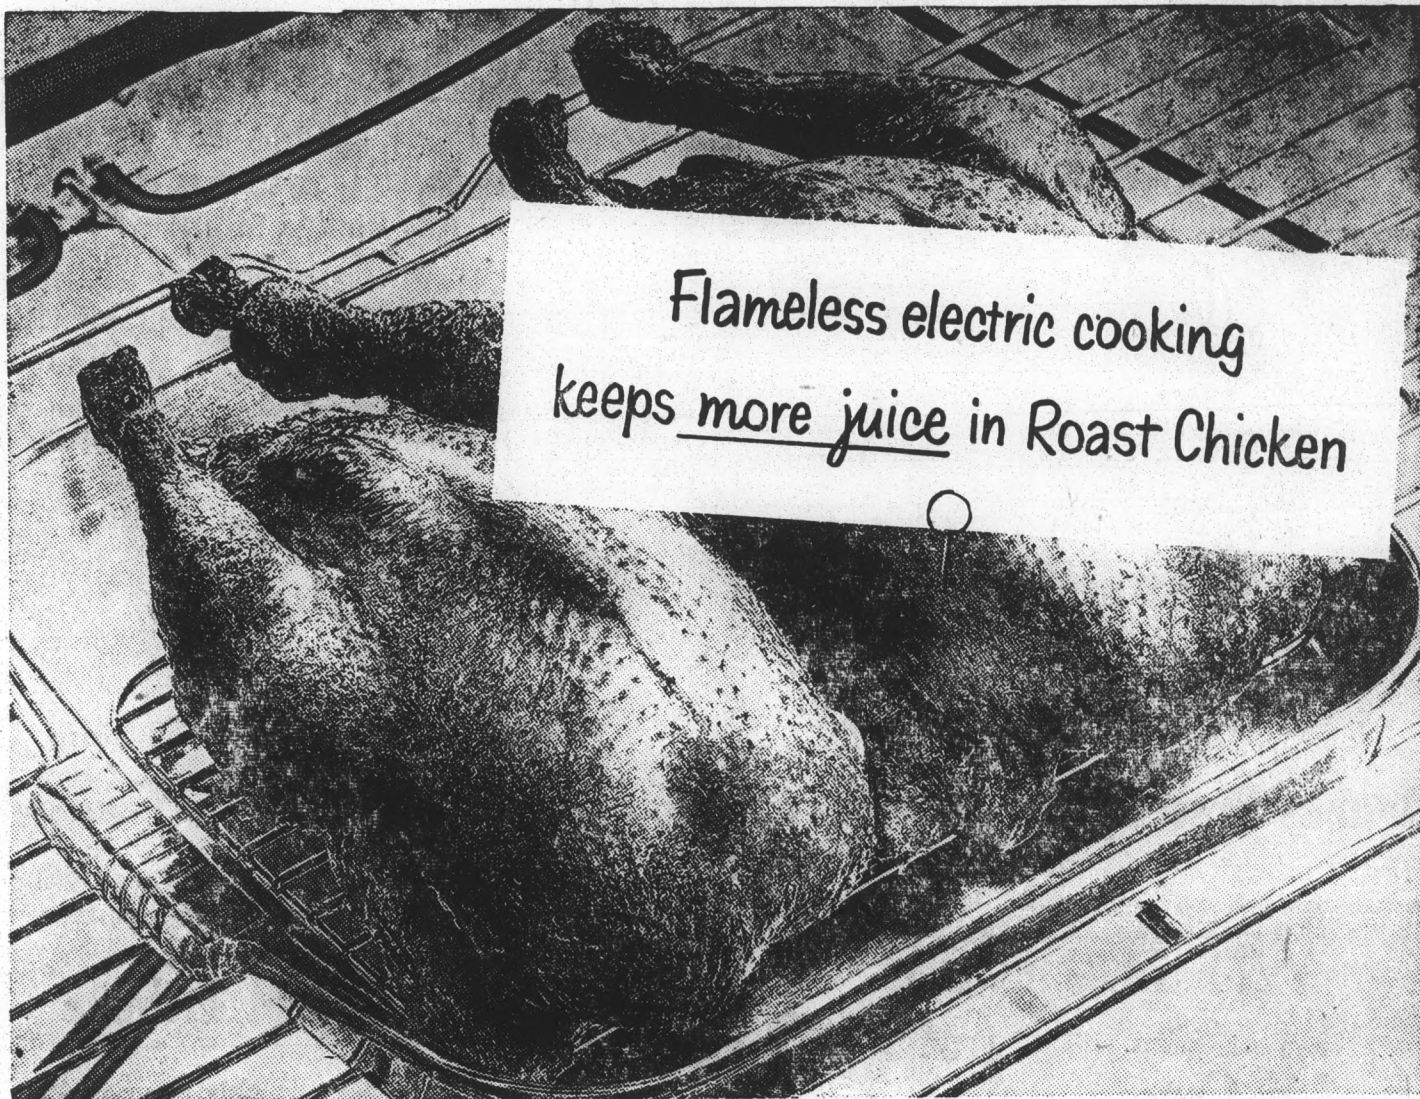

This weekend is the one set aside for mothers. Fathers and children should get up early, serve Mom breakfast in bed, clean up the front room, and surprise her with a gift of appreciation. This shouldn't be a new shovel or hedge shears, even though they make her job easier, but instead a flowering plant or glamorous shrub from DAYBELL'S.

After serving her coffee, so she can see all the way to the foot of the bed, unveil a hydrangea in full bloom or some other pretty to brighten her day. Work it right you might still be able to sneak off for a little fishing in the afternoon.

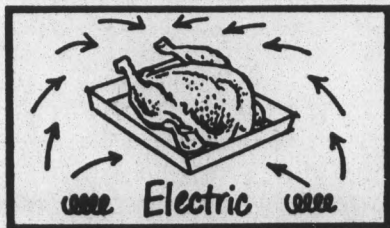

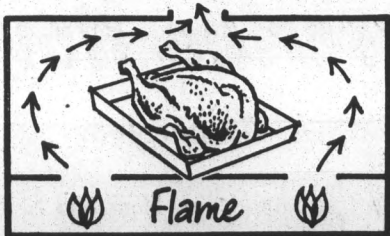

For those that believe mothers should be well treated on more than one day a year we suggest making life more pleasant with sprinklers that really work, plenty of light weight plastic hose, and grass barrier, so you can tell the lawn from the flowers. Of course a good sprayer for chasing bugs is essential and the kind that goes on the end of the hose is mighty easy.

If your yard is without shade, we have the trees to provide it. This will give Mom something to look at besides the wallpaper and possibly a cool place to sit while she catches up on the sewing. To top the day off, you should take her out to dinner or provide her with a "man cooked" dinner, barbecued on Daybell's fine oak charcoal. Open Sunday for late gift seekers.

Flameless electric cooking keeps more juice in Roast Chicken

Roast chicken is delicious only when it's juicy—but flame evaporates juice

LIVE BETTER—ELECTRICALLY

Here's why:

❖ Flame needs air to breathe. A flame-heated oven constantly inhales dry air, exhales moist air—literally cooks meat in a hot draft that evaporates good juices. But juice is the secret of flavor in meats, and especially in chicken. Nothing is more disappointing than a piece of dried-out white meat. Yet, in a flame-type oven, that's too often exactly what you get.

❖ But in a modern electric oven there's no draft of constantly changing air. Because there's no flame. You cook in moist heat, not dry heat. Result? More juice stays in the chicken. And the chicken tastes better.

Electric cooking is cleaner, too. Your pots, pans and walls stay fresh and new far longer. And cooler. Electricity puts the heat in the food, not the kitchen. Actually, it's the only modern way to cook. See your electrical dealer soon.

Each week The Farm Tribune awards to the winner of a great contest a silver bonus of $5.00. The winner is selected from the Porterville trade area, 18 years of age or over.

Secure an official entry blank from The Farm Tribune and complete it with your name and address. Additional words or less:

"I am glad I trade in Porterville because . . ."

Entries will be received at Silver Bonus Day at The Farm Tribune. All entries will be judged by a panel of judges. The person who, in the opinion of the judges, writes the best entry, will be declared the winner. In the event of a tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

A Silver Bonus representative will contact the winning contestant, or phone, the evening of Tuesday, between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. If the contestant is not at home, the Silver Bonus representative will call the Tribune office and receive his $5 award.

If the winner is at home to receive his bonus, he must produce proof of purchase or payment for the Silver Bonus Day — from a Silver Bonus store. If the winner is not at home, he is eligible for a bonus award according to the following rules:

If sales slips amount to more than the entire bonus.

If sales slips amount to less than the entire bonus, the winner will receive one-half the entire bonus.

Whatever part of the award is not added to the next week's bonus. The entry will be paid regardless of whether the winner is at home or not.

Entries will be judged principally on the basis of sincerity and quality of thought. Under no circumstances will judges be permitted to know the name of the entry.

All entries become the property of The Farm Tribune. The decision of the judges is final.

Employees of The Farm Tribune and their immediate families are not eligible to enter the contest. Owners and employees of Silver Bonus Stores can win the Silver Bonus with sales slips from stores other than that with which they are connected.

Trout season opened in central California with ideal weather, plenty of accessible waters, water in good condition and loads of trout. Anglers who fish the put and take rainbow waters owe the fish and game department a big vote of thanks for the remarkable job it did in fish planting throughout the area.

We have tabulated the number of fishermen in Fresno county where we could cover the various spots or make phone calls for other facts and figures and come up with a total of more than 25,000 fishermen on lakes, streams and rivers over the two day weekend.

The automobile count into Kings Canyon National Park from 5 p.m., Friday until Sunday evening was 1,926 with an estimated 6,740 people fishing the Kings river, Hume lake and other streams. By actual count on Saturday, 528 fishermen caught 4,969 trout from Hume lake, 31 had 215 fish on Ten Mile creek and 27 had 322 trout taken on the Kings river near Cedar Grove. On Sunday, 401 fishermen were checked on Hume with 3,596 fish.

The Kings river outside the park and the San Joaquin river was host to some 2,500 anglers. Lake Sequoia accommodated about 800 but fishing wasn't up to par here for some reason.

Few people knew the new road to Huntington Lake was open so only about 1,000 fishermen showed up at this high elevation body of water.

Shaver lake accommodated an estimated 4,200 anglers on the opening day at which time there was from 800 to 1,000 boats out. The catch on this lake was terrific averaging out about 8.5 per angler or 35,000 trout taken on Saturday. Shaver lake was exceptionally low and fishing success was very slow on Sunday. Dinkey Creek saw about 500 anglers.

The most people in the smallest area were not trout fishermen but anglers casting for bass and bluegill on Avocado Lake which opened Saturday for the first time. We have figures for this lake fishing that are within five percent or so of being accurate.

On Saturday and Sunday 3,800 anglers caught 654 bass and 8,174 bluegill and 1,796 anglers caught nothing. Of the bass, 82 were with tags representing 22 percent of the total bass that had previously been tagged. Accordingly, if the 572 untagged fish represent 22 percent of the population, there should be some 2,500 bass remaining in Avocado Lake.

Word received from Avila that salmon are running again.

The second trout season in California will open on May 18 in Plumas, Yuba, Sierra, Nevada, Placer, El Dorado, Alpine and that part of Butte county south and east of Feather river and the Northfork of the Feather.

These waters provide excellent wild trout fishing but many of the readily accessible streams and lakes will be stocked with catchable size rainbow as follows:

Butte: Southfork of the Feather in the Golden Trout area, west branch of the Feather, French, Lost, Big Butte and Chico creeks. De Sabla and Philbrook reservoirs.

El Dorado: South and Silver forks of American, Southfork of the Middlefork of Consumnes, Eagle, Glen Alpine, Meeks, Lyons, Pyramid, Taylor and Southfork Silver (below Wrights Lake) creeks. Upper Truckee river. Dark, Lower Echo, Fallen Leaf and Walton lakes, El Dorado Fore bay.

Nevada: Truckee and Little Truckee rivers, Southfork Yuba in the Washington area and Highway 40 area, Deer, Donner and Presser creeks, Bear river, Fuller and Rucker lakes, Lower and Upper Scotts Flat reservoirs.

Placer: Shirttail, Auburn Ravine and Lower Ward creeks, Halsey Forebay.

Plumas: Middlefork Feather, in LaPorte area, Northfork Feather from Chester to Old Hatchery, Big, Bucks, Butte, Greenhorn, Grizzly, Indian, Jamison, Lights, Big Long Valley, Southfork Rock, Poplar, Spanish, Wolk, Yellow, Benner, Hamilton Branch, Mud and Warner creeks, Bucks and Eureka lakes.

Sierra: Cold Stream, Fiddle, Goodyear, Haypress, Salmon and Smithneck creeks, North Yuba river, Gold lake, East and West Distributaries.

Yuba: Orange creek.

Alpine: Northfork Mokelumne river in Hermit valley, Eastfork and Westfork Carson, Markleville, Pleasant and Silver creeks, Upper and Lower Mosquito lakes, Alpine lake and Twin Lakes reservoir.

Anglers are reminded that artificial flies only may be used on Pleasant Valley creek in Alpine county and artificial lures only on

THE FEATHER OLD DAYS

APRIL, 1892

PORTERVILLE, Hiram Bailey has purchased 11 acres of Mrs. R. Baker's land on the county road east of town and will plant it to citrus fruit as soon as the crop of hay is taken off.

J. S. Lewis has just finished setting ten acres to oranges, north of town.

The Easter services at the churches were carried out in an interesting and instructive manner. The day was windy and cold.

The "bachelors" had their picnic on the 17th. A jolly crowd repaired to the reservation on south Tule, making the woods ring with mirth, and startling the timid aborigines of that section into the chaparral.

The Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church gave a strawberry social in Davis hall on the 19th.

The rain so anxiously looked for did not arrive. The grain in this section is growing finely, but still another shower will be very acceptable for filling out the heads.

Is It Wise To Choose A Funeral Director In Advance?

Many men of affairs think so. They are community leaders to whom planning for every contingency is a natural part of living. They realize it is wise, considerate and economical to spare their families the task of choosing a funeral director under the stress of shock and grief. In coming to us they do so because of our readiness to accept every responsibility and detail which would otherwise burden their loved ones.

LET COTTON PLANTS "ASK FOR WATER" IS ADVICE OF DAVIS SPECIALISTS FOLLOWING VALLEY EXPERIMENTS

DAVIS, May 9 — Allowing cotton plants to "ask" for water by leaf color changes may provide a better guide to irrigation timing than other, more complicated methods.

This suggestion comes from irrigation specialists J. R. Stockton and L. D. Doneen of the University of California, Davis, whose recent report describes extensive cotton irrigation experiments on a variety of soil types.

The specialists also found that cotton fiber quality is not greatly affected by irrigation practice, and that poor roots require more water while control of verticillium requires less.

"By leaf color change and a slight temporary wilting", the specialists said, "the plant itself, affected by changing soil moisture conditions, reports the need for more water."

This timing method works best on light, sandy soils, they added.

Tests at the United States Cotton Field Station at Shafter showed that plants irrigated only six times during the season (at times when leaf color first indicated lack of soil moisture) had less vegetative growth but only a slight decrease in lint yield as compared with plants that received 12 irrigations.

Other tests showed that pre-flowering irrigations (before June 28) tended to boost early plant growth but also increased the number of plants infected with verticillium wilt.

"Vegetative growth and plant diseases were markedly influenced by early irrigation", reported the specialists, "but subsequent irrigations timed by color change of the plant reduced these variations by harvest."

Stockton and Doneen conducted further tests on a Merced clay soil near Buttonwillow and on a Tulare clay soil near Corcoran.

At Buttonwillow, they found that high soil moisture and frequent irrigations increased verticillium wilt under conditions favorable to the disease. This led to lower fiber yields, and indicated need for fewer water applications.

At Corcoran, on the other hand, verticillium was not a problem, and more frequent irrigations resulted in higher yields.

These tests also showed that where soil conditions limit root development (as occurred at Corcoran), frequent irrigations can boost both plant growth and fiber yield. Otherwise, if root development is good, less water and fewer applications are needed, said the specialists.

"In all three locations and extremes in irrigation treatments, neither fiber grade nor staple length was materially affected", they reported.

There was a tendency to produce slightly stronger spun yarn from cotton plants that were less frequently irrigated. This may have been the result of less trash in the seed cotton and fewer nappy, thin-walled fibers, they said.

HIGH STUDENTS ARE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS WINNERS

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Two Porterville high school students are among the four from Tulare county who have been awarded scholarships under the new state program, Principal E. A. Landgraf announced.

Winners are Patricia Dillingham, daughter of Mrs. Elva Ferguson of 1163 Westfield Drive, and Bryan A. Axtell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Axtell of Route 3, Box 971. The scholarships entitle them to tuition in a college of their choice, and may be continuing through the four collegiate years provided a high scholastic average is maintained.

Miss Dillingham also was one of the California students who rated high on the National Merit Scholarship corporations screening test held last fall, Landgraf said.

Watch The Winners Circle

Winning A Championship Is The Dream Of Every 4-H and FFA Boy or Girl.
For Them It Is A Never To Be Forgotten Thrill Of A Lifetime.

PORTERVILLE FAIR is the first of the 1957 Fair season and competition is keen with hundreds of exhibitors eyeing that charmed circle. In the past many of those gaining the coveted first place and champion ribbons have used rations produced in our own custom mill — the only such independent mill in Porterville.

CHANCES ARE...

You'll find "FARMERS FED" livestock and poultry in the winners' circle again this year for more and more youngsters are depending on our "Custom Mixed" feeds to put the kind of finish on their animals that spells...

"CHAMPIONS"

THESE WINNERS are learning early what you — as ranchers — long ago discovered ... it pays to feed scientifically, following a planned program. At FARMERS FED you have opportunity for both — custom milled feed and the ever ready service of experienced field men who are prepared to map out the feed program best suited to your particular needs.

YOU TOO can be in the winners' circle. Perhaps not in a show ring, but in the equally important, profitable circle of the market place!

FRANK BROWN APPEARS ALONG AVENUE "IN ALL THE OLD FAMILIAR PLACES"; CITY GOES INTO 55th YEAR THIS WEEK

(The following was crowded out last week — too many ads, of all things. But parts of it are still good, so read on.)

PORTERVILLE, May 2 — Consternation, in the form of Frank Brown, appeared "in all the old familiar places" one night this week, but Frank was only enroute north, so those who frequent the avenue drew a deep breath and settled back to normal.

Plans for the Arabian horse show that will be an opening day feature of the Porterville fair, were made Sunday when 110 valley Arabian fanciers gathered at the home of Donald Jones for a meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Arabian Horse association, and a potluck dinner. Instruction in judging was given by J. L. Thompson and L. L. Bennion, from Cal Poly; Mrs. George Rogers of Tulare proved to be the best judge of Arabian horses when four classes of four horses each were shown and judged.

When the city council meets next Tuesday night, the city will be moving into its 55th incorporated year. It was on May 3, 1902, that the first city council was elected — Wilko Mentz, who became the first mayor; A. A. Abbey, Fred Ackerman, Dr. O. C. Higgins and J. N. Larson.

Six Hungarian refugees were in Porterville, Tuesday, enroute to Fresno where they will be employed; they are sponsored by the Catholic Relief society.

A delegation from Porterville watched Bill Sharman, former Porterville high school athlete, play with the Boston Celtics against an all-professional basketball team in Los Angeles Tuesday night. Some 125 friends of Bill signed a telegram to him in Los Angeles.

Art's Bargain Center is now operating in a new location — 402 East Olive street; Bannister's Furniture is about to open in the 100 block on the avenue; Cone's Automotive has knocked out a wall to expand into the building next door.

Porterville high school class of 1937 is cooking up plans for a reunion in Porterville.

Little League baseball officially starts for the summer on May 20. Rockwell Manufacturing company will stage a barbecue to officially dedicate their new Porterville plant on June 8, tying in with the annual Porterville Area Pilot's association Moonlight Flight.

High school trustees this week purchased three, 79-passenger buses on a lease basis.

Clovis Vest has been installed as new VFW commander; other officers are: Ed. Miller, senior vice commander; Delbert Cypert, junior vice commander and Rev. Ragnar Kjeldahl, chaplain. In a joint ceremony conducted by Alva Flemming, California department senior vice commander, Leo Kerr was installed as Springville VFW commander and Joseph Augustine as Strathmore post commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Matzke have returned from a world tour;

Mrs. Tony Gomez left this week to fly to Switzerland to visit a sister in Montreaux.

Jack Gilliam is getting along all right after seriously injuring a knee on a fishing trip in the Cherry Flat country. He was brought out by a Sheriff rescue squad; with him were Ernie Holmes and Bud Kitchel.

Death claimed Brooks Hartman, Porterville business man, Sunday.

Earl Carpenter has been elected president of the California conference of Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Charles E. Bird, former Porterville resident, died this week in Montebello. With his son, Charley, now a Porterville real estate salesman, he had the first drive-in in Porterville back in the 1920s — a root beer stand on Sunnyside, avenue.

Location of new highway 190 was pinned down at a California State Highway commission hearing at the city hall yesterday. The route will extend along a direct line from south Main on the south side of the Tule river to tie in with new road that will skirt Success reservoir on the south and east, where location work is underway.

HERB KRAMER IS RE-ELECTED COUNCIL HEAD

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Herb Kramer, Earlmart 4-H club leader, was reelected president of the Tulare county 4-H council at a meeting held in Porterville recently.

Serving with him are: Bill Waddle, Linwood, vice president; Mrs. Harold Haddock, Libery, secretary; Mrs. Franklin Cole, Divisadero, treasurer; George Barnes, Visalia Hi-4-H, Whitaker Forest Council representative.

Meeting with the council was the County Hi-4-H, with Dick Kramer, of Earlmart, vice president, presiding.

Fat Animals Will Be Offered At Junior Sale Held In Connection With Porterville Fair May 18

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Champion fat animals, finished to top condition and ready to provide the best locker meat that it is possible to produce, will be offered to bidders at annual junior fat stock auction that will be a Saturday afternoon feature of the Porterville fair, May 18.

Col. Harry Hardy, of Bakersfield, will serve as auctioneer; personnel of the California Farm Bureau Marketing association will assist in conducting the sale; working with sale figures will be Mrs. Evelyn Farnsworth and Alfred W. Browning.

In general charge, as sales manager, will be Rolla Bishop, secretary of the Porterville fair board.

Fat beef, fat lambs and fat barrows will go through the sale ring.

Jones Locker service will provide free locker space to persons buying animals; arrangement can be made with Bishop for purchase of animals, or halves, by persons who cannot attend the sale.

All stock sold will be Future Farmer and 4-H club project animals. In buying at the junior sale, the purchaser not only gets top-quality stock, but also helps a Future Farmer, or a 4-H club member successfully complete their projects.

Champion Quarter Horse Gelding Entered In Porterville Fair Show That Is Set For May 17 Afternoon

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Billy Booger, the 1956 Pacific Coast Quarter Horse association grand champion gelding, has been entered in the Porterville Fair's Quarter Horse show that will be a Friday afternoon, May 17, feature of the fair.

This famous gelding was undefeated in show competition during 1956; he is owned by Tony Marshall of Tulare.

Guido Lombardi, chairman of the Quarter Horse show committee, states that entries are coming in from throughout the state and that from 70 to 80 horses are expected.

Working with Lombardi on show planning are: Bob Lard, finances, trophies and ribbons; Perry Cotton, of Visalia, representing the American Quarter Horse association; Burt Arnold, facilities, and Mrs. W. L. Beaver, show secretary.

The Porterville Fair show has been accepted as an official show by the Pacific Coast Quarter Horse association. The show will start at 2 p.m. and outstanding horses will be shown during the evening grandstand circus.

ORIGINAL FAIR DIRECTORS PLAN TO BURN THE MORTGAGE THIS YEAR IF EVERYTHING GOES AS SCHEDULED

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — If the best laid plans of mice and men do not go astray, final payment on the Porterville fair debt will be made this year and the mortgage burned in ceremonies in front of the fair grandstand Saturday evening, May 18.

Serving on the original fair board were: Babe Hodgson, the first chairman and still the chairman; Rolla Bishop, Chester Gilbert, Bill Rodgers, Cyrille Faure, Freeland Farnsworth, Vernon Gill, Allan Coates and Joe Menne.

Others assisting with the first fair as committee chairmen were: R. L. Hooper, Roy Southwick, L. N. Carpenter, the late George Sears, Ralph Aldridge, M. L. Grimsley, Vince McHenry, Rodgers L. Moore and the late Harry Britton.

Several years ago the original directors signed a note for $6,000 in order to keep the fair going; Mrs. Scott Carpenter gave the money, interest free.

Final payment of $1,000 will be made this year, if fair plans go according to schedule, and the mortgage will be burned the final night of the 1957 fair.

HOMEcoming PROGRAM IS COMPLETED

STRATHMORE, May 9 — Plans for annual Homecoming program in the Strathmore community have been completed for Saturday, May 11, with Mrs. Ernest Thompson and Chester Pharis as co-chairman; assisting are members of the Strathmore chamber of commerce, the alumni association, the Lions club, and other groups.

A barbecued dinner will be served at the Strathmore Memorial building at 6 p.m. with Lions club members preparing and serving the food, and with Future Farmers and Y-Teens assisting; Strathmore YWCA council will sell cakes and pies.

During the dinner, music will be provided by the high school band, directed by John Staton; door prizes are in charge of Wade Miller; Domer F. Power will serve as master of ceremonies.

Entertainment will be provided by a girls' trio: Veta Haney, Norma Johnson and Marie Scarbrough, with Mrs. J. R. Fillmore as accompanist; Pat Harper will play a cornet solo, with Mrs. Fillmore accompanying, and Leonard Huizar, tenor, will sing, with Don Mitchell, guitar.

In the Strathmore high school band are: Merritt Bessey, Karen Gates, Jack Cobbs, Dwight Coley, Pat Dillon, Beverly Duncan, Pat Harper, Gerald Hensley, Loann Laws.

Claude Mitchell, Roger Peterson, Berdine Riggs, Delbert Rowell, David Tillery, Vernon Willis, Robert Woolsey, Jay Jike and Ray Washington.

Following the dinner, a Little League ball game is scheduled; the alumni association will also meet at this time, with Mrs. Betty Baird in charge of arrangements.

A dance at the Memorial building will conclude the evening.

As a pre-homecoming event, the Strathmore high school chorus will present "Belle of the West", at the elementary school auditorium, Friday evening.

GRAPE PEST CONTROL MEET

DELANO, May 9—Current suggestions for grape pest and disease control, including reports of work on grape leaf folder and grape leafhopper, will be given at an extension service meeting to be held tomorrow morning, Friday, 10:00 o'clock, at the Sierra Vista ranch headquarters, three miles east of Delano.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

THIS COMING WEEK IS ANOTHER one of those very special weeks. Lacking the benefit of a high class publicity agency, we will simply call it "School Election Week". As anyone who is careless enough to listen to the radio or read the paper knows, the Porterville High School district is having a special tax election. If it passes, it will furnish the means to lead the campus out on West Olive out of the age of architectural darkness that has engulfed it the last few years. We have heard all the arguments pro and con regarding this tax and suggest that the polls next week will be the best place to settle the debate. As a taxpayer, parent and booster for our town, it will take us only a split second to vote "yes" on the proposition.

THERE ARE ALSO A FEW hardy souls that are running for vacancies on the school boards 'round and about. Vernon Gill of Springville is the lone candidate for the High School board. If he is elected, we are sure he will continue the good work started by the incumbent, who by odd coincidence, is Vernon himself.

ON THE Elementary School front, Porterville style, there are two candidates for the vacancy left by Mrs. Virginia Smith, who is the only woman serving on that board. Mrs. Barbara Nicholson and Richard Hubler are the two who seem to have a fine disregard for their spare time. Mrs. Nicholson lives on the old Springville highway and has three children stair-stepped from ten down. Mr. Hubler is a native of Porterville and is not afraid to look a person in the eye. He's an optometrist. Anyone with strength to raise a pencil should get out and vote May 17th.

WE LOST ANOTHER 50 to 1 gamble on Main street again today. For those who suspect a gambling ring, we should straighten out the record. We simply failed to put a penny in the parking meter, and it will now cost us fifty pennies. We explained to the young gendarme who was armed with handcuffs, pistol, sap, pad and pencil, that we were out of change, and had merely rushed off to get some. We are unhappy to report that there was a look of disbelief on his face, as he continued

Joe France Wins Bankers Merit Award

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Joe France, Porterville high school student, has been awarded the California Bankers association certificate of merit award as the most outstanding member of the Porterville Future Farmers of America.

Presentation was made by Murray L. Tanner, manager of the Security First National Bank, at the High School Award assembly.

The California Bankers association award, which was established nearly 30 years ago, is presented to the outstanding student in each Future Farmer chapter in the state. Selection of the winning student is made by the agricultural instructor on the basis of standards set by the bureau of agricultural education for project work, leadership, scholarship and participation in chapter activities. The award is approved by, and bears, the signature of the Governor and the state superintendent of public instruction as well as officials of the Future Farmers of America and the California Bankers association.

Joe France has had a top dairy project for the past four years, has been an honor student for four years, and has been active in Student Council work and served as an officer for both the local FFA and Regional FFA. During the past six weeks Joe has won four FFA speaking contests, including the state contest and he placed second in the 11 western states run-off.

to ply his pencil.

THERE ARE MANY PEOPLE who take exception to paying rent to park on the city's streets. They reason they've paid for the streets once and have a right to use them. Unfortunately, parking meters are something like the dope habit. Once started in a City's life, they seem to go on and on without known cure. One of the few towns that hasn't succumbed to the temptation is our neighbor to the north, Lindsay. And do you know, it looks downright lonely without meters cluttering up the landscape.

Strathmore FFA Banquet Next Thursday

STRATHMORE, May 9 — Annual Parent and Son banquet of the Strathmore Future Farmer chapter will be held at the elementary school auditorium next Thursday evening, May 16, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The banquet is being held to honor parents, and those individuals who have contributed outstanding service to the FFA chapter during the year.

Heading the banquet committee is Richard Craig.

JOE FAURE JR., DELWIN MOENCH FIRST WINNERS

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — First livestock winners in the 1948 Porterville fair were Joe Faure Jr., at that time a member of the Vandalia 4-H club, who showed the grand champion fat steer — a Polled Hereford.

Delwin Moench, a Porterville Future Farmer, had the grand champion fat barrow, a Hampshire.

Faure is now a student at Fresno State college; Moench is farming in the Terra Bella district, and is still a breeder of purebred Hampshires.

4-H CAMP PLAN TO BE TOLD AT VANDALIA MEET

By Viola Meier

VANDALIA, May 9 — Vandalia 4-H monthly meeting date has been changed from May 16 to May 23, with highlight of the meeting to be the showing of slides on 4-H camp.

All members who have not given a project report this year should plan to have one ready for this meeting, it is stated. Reports on the following will be given: May Hi-4-H meeting; Barbecue at Mooney grove; Porterville fair booth; 4-H Fair exhibits and demonstrations.

Parents and members are urged to be present because 4-H camp will be explained, and resignation forms will be handed out.

ENTRIES INDICATE LIVELY SHOW FOR JUNIOR RIDERS AT FAIR MAY 18

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Early entries indicate a lively show when junior riders of the valley meet Saturday, May 18, in the Porterville Canterbelles' Gymkana and horse show that will be staged as a feature of the Porterville fair.

Events have been set up in the

Easy Lemon Juice

Melons are in the market again, and melons always call for lemon juice. And, with perfect timing, you can now get lemon juice in a wonderfully handy, realistic plastic squeeze-lemon. It's called Easy-Juicer Lemon Juice, and it's in the produce department of most markets.

With this new container it's not only easy but inexpensive to give melon that delightful extra goodness. The plastic-lemon contains the natural juice of 8 tree-ripened California lemons, concentrated to double strength.

Also, there's no waste with this lemon juice in the squeeze container, no leftover halves to dry in the refrigerator and get thrown away. And the easy-juicer lemon is so attractive it can be put right on the table to be passed around so that everyone can have just the amount of lemon juice they want with their melons, or with salads, fish or tea.

Certificates To Families Who Were Exchange Hosts

VISALIA, May 9 — Certificates have been presented to families who were hosts to International Farm Youth exchanges from foreign countries during 1956 by Sheldon Jackson, Tulare county director of agricultural extension.

Southeastern Tulare county families honored were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Todd, Ducor, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leckband, Terra Bella. The Todds entertained John Fordyce, of Australia; the Leckbands, George Perler, from Switzerland.

Alexander Resigns From County ASC Job

VISALIA, May 9 — Burton F. Alexander last week resigned as office manager for the Tulare County ASC committee, effective May 19, to accept a position as program specialist for the California State ASC office in Berkeley.

Paul Hamilton, who was office manager from 1947 through 1952, has taken over again. Alexander had been manager for three years and two months.

STANCLIFF AGENCY SOLD

SPRINGVILLE, May 9 — Ted Stancliff has announced sale of his Springville insurance agency, Wes Kutzner and F. M. Moore taking over the real estate, and Gordon Spencer, the insurance; they have also purchased the Stancliff building.

Kutzner states that his business will now be operated as the Sierra Mountain Realty.

Stancliff will now devote full time to his California Coach company.

Shipment of early onions has started from Kern county.

BILL WHITE, NORMA MARGOT IN LEAD ROLES

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Bill White, of Porterville, will be starred in "The Seven Year Itch", as the house-broken husband who takes his first fling after seven years of marriage, when this celebrated New York comedy hit by George Axelrod is presented by the Barn Theater beginning May 17 on Fridays and Saturdays for three weekends.

Norma Margot will be the scatter-brained photographer's model who tempts the up-to-then virtuous husband off the straight and narrow while his wife is away on a vacation.

In addition to White and Mrs. Margot in the leading roles, the cast will also include Dr. Mel Campos as a glib psychiatrist making some apt comments on the hero's awkwardness and guilt in the amorous adventure; June Pixton as the devoted wife who has left daddy to make all that money in the hot city while she cools off at the seashore and who appears in the play only in her husband's anxious day-dreams.

Also in the cast will be Roger Caswell, Ramona Mills, and Sherrill Hoffman.

Circus Acts

Slide For Life, an act that will bring her down a 350-foot wire, hanging from her teeth.

Something new also will be nightly performances by Dick Berg's Movieland Seals, who have appeared with Pollock Brothers, and other circuses, as well as on top national television shows.

The Eris will bring their unusual one arm, and one finger, balancing act to the Porterville Fair stage to round out the professional part of the program.

Adding a stirring musical touch to the circus program will be the Porterville High School band, under the direction of Frank Shaffer; the band will play prior to opening of the show and will present a number during the show, as well as providing background music for the acts.

Porterville's Canterbelles, directed by Doris Karstaedt, will present their precision mounted drill, and on the opening night of the fair, Arabian horses will be shown in action with riders in full Arab costume.

During the second night performance Quarter horses will move into the featured spot, and as a final night climax, it is hoped that remaining debt on the fair can be paid off and the mortgage burned.

The fair will officially open at 9 a.m., Thursday, May 16, with fat livestock judging in all departments; flower show judging will start at 11 a.m.; pet parade for elementary school youngsters is set for 6:30 p.m. and Arabian horse show, at 2 p.m.

Judging of breeding animals will start at 9 a.m., May 17; at 2 p.m. of that day the Quarter Horse show is slated for the grandstand area.

Canterbelle gymkhana and horse show is scheduled for 9 a.m., Saturday morning, May 18, and junior fat stock sale will be the featured afternoon event of the final day of the fair.

Kiddie rides will be operated by K. T. Bebb throughout the fair; food and drink concessions will be handled by Porterville area organizations.

Admission price is $1.00 for

Gardeners Of Community Invited To Participate In Fair's Flower Show That Will Be Staged By Garden Club

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — All gardeners of the Porterville area are invited to place entries in the Porterville Garden club flower show that will be a feature of the Porterville fair May 16, 17, and 18.

Entries will be received on Thursday, May 16, from 8 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. Judging will start at 11 a.m.

Classes have been set up for: Potted plants, dish gardens or planters, and arrangements.

The arrangement class is broken into the following sections: Dried, fresh, dried and fresh materials, displays featuring use of figurines, flowers displayed with vegetables or fruits, miniatures from three to six inches, displays suggesting seasons, holidays or Victorian, and unrestricted arrangements.

The colorful flower show display will be on exhibit throughout the three days and evenings of the fair.

Cotton Dress Contest Set For Wednesday Evening In High School Cafeteria; Winners Appear At Fair

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — Annual cotton dress contest sponsored by the Tulare county cotton industry, will be held Wednesday evening, May 15, at the Porterville high school cafeteria at 8 o'clock for 4-H club girls; and girls in high school home economics classes throughout Tulare county.

Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 for three classes of dresses in three age groups have been offered by the cotton industry; dresses will be received at room 309, Porterville high school, on Tuesday, May 14; they will be judged that evening for workmanship.

Competing girls will model their dresses in the contest next Wednesday night. All dresses must be of cotton material; girls competing must have made their dresses, and must model their own dresses.

Entry blanks are available through 4-H clubs, or home economics departments; they can also be obtained from the general chairman of the event, Roscoe Honeycutt, manager of the Tule River gin at Woodville.

Classes have been set for party dresses, sports dresses and school dresses; age groups are: 10-12; 13-15 and 16-18 years. Winners in each class and group will be introduced and will model their dresses each night at the Grand-adults (season ticket $2.00) 50 cents for students, and 25 cents for children.

Grimsley Named Porterville Clerk-Assessor

PORTERVILLE, May 9 — M. L. Grimsley was named city clerk and assessor at a council meeting Tuesday night, and comment along the avenue is that he'll call 'em as he sees 'em, which is the way it should be. He takes over June 1.

Named to the city planning commission were Mac Williams and Andy Reynolds.

And with a sizeable audience of students present (they were preparing for Senior City Day) plea came from the Porterville Coordinating Youth council that the city expand its recreation program, and hire a full-time recreation director.

There was other buzzin' along the avenue during the week, but with an excellent Porterville Round-up now passed, it's Fair time in Porterville, and avenue residents can look toward a fine show, May 16, 17 and 18.

Strawberries are now near peak movement from the Fresno area.
